

day 12

We want to wrap up our inspiration series with a pair of crazy funny underdogs from Ireland. In 2016, brothers Paul and Gary O'Donovan won silver in the lightweight double sculls (among many other things), the first rowing medal won by Ireland at the Olympics. We are in love with Ireland and the brothers' laid-back attitude that we wish we could adopt during these times. They proved that all you really need is not take yourself too seriously and "pull like a dog"!
