

day 5

Colin and Julie Angus are Canadian rowers, adventurers, writers and much more. They have travelled on a number of exciting expeditions (including a human powered journey around the globe!), and have produced several books and movies about their adventures. We feature their book "Rowed Trip: From Scotland to Syria by Oar", but really, anything these two do is absolutely remarkable and of course inspiring. They are on to bigger and better things. Be sure to follow their journey!
